FORTY-FIRST YEAR No. 37

MAYOR CHAS. TRAUB, SR. IS ANNOUNCED FOR RE-ELECTION TO OFFICE

City's Chief Executive Running Strictly On Record—Makes Statement Of Fact and Figures of His Stewardship—Many Improvements Made Without Additional Burden of Bond Issue.

Mayor Charles Traub, Sr., who has served the city as its chief executive for the past term, is formally announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo as a candidate for re-election, and in so doing predicates his candidacy on his record, seeking re-election on the grounds that he wishes to continue the splendid service he has endeavored to give and accomplish.

Mayor Traub's candidacy is deserving of the serious consideration of every taxpayer and voter who is concerned in the administrative welfare of the city. The office of mayor is a business one. Its affairs must be administered just as any large business should in order to acquire success.

Mayor Traub has shown such results as to stamp his administration as one of success. In an interview with his Honor by a representative of The Echo the following facts and figures were revealed:

"As chief executive of the city of Bay St. Louis for the past four and one half years, and as chief executive of the first term of the Commission Form of Government of this city, I began with the policy of reduction of taxes and a relief to the taxpayers of the city of Bay St. Louis and savings in all branches of the city government. This is sometimes hard in view of the general desire of all people to improve streets, highways, and other public facilities of the city.

"To practice economy one must not always look to the immediate saving of dollars and cents, but do so as to accomplish greater savings in the future.

"When the commission form of government was first begun in January, 1928, at the time when I first took office as mayor, there was a dire need of improvement in the fire fighting apparatus in the city. The streets of the city needed improvement and the city hall was not in the very best of condition.

"In addition to the duties of mayor, and chief executive of the streets and highways and the fire fighting equipment was placed under my immediate supervision.

"On taking office the city was indebted to the Merchants Bank in the sum of $18,500.00 which was owing out of the City General Fund. In spite of that handicap, and by judicious savings and general economic operation of the city's affairs, we succeeded in securing the following permanent improvements:

Purchased a fire engine of the best quality and which the people know has very efficiently protected their homes and property for the past four years. The cost of this engine was.....	$ 6500.00
Built fire engine house at a cost of.....	4902.90
Paid for the hose bought by former administration.....	1675.00
Constructed concrete intersections at all streets intersecting the Beach Road, at a cost of.....	6442.31
Placed the City Hall in first class condition by general repairs and painting.....	1522.52
Purchased an improved tractor and grader for the shell roads.....	2414.91
Purchased two city trucks at a cost of.....	1552.40
Purchased an adding machine for Tax Collector's Office.....	325.00
Straightening Devil's Elbow at the intersection of Sycamore and Third streets, which was a death trap for many years, at a cost of.....	4580.00
Constructing concrete culverts, sidewalks in front of city property and replacing 76 wooden bridges with concrete pipe at a cost of.....	15 629.89
Furniture and equipment in the Bay High School, not included in their bond issue.....	4536.13
Bay High School additional cost, not included in their bond issue.....	7696.18
Concrete curb and gutters and paving Carroll Avenue and Keller Avenue.....	14,000.00
Grand Total spent for permanent improvement.....	$71,777.24

"The above has been paid out of the treasury of the city without bonds, and out of the general levy of taxes, and all in addition to general operating expenses, and fully paid for, all in spite of the fact

COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION ELECT OFFICERS FOR YEAR

Erroneous Report That County School Term Would Be Shortened Corrected.

The Hancock County Teachers' Association met at the Central School building in Bay St. Louis on Saturday, September 4, at 10:30 o'clock, and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

D. E. Lumpkin, of Kiln, chairman.

G. W. Hillis of Lakeshore, vice-chairman.

Miss Ethel Sylvester, secretary.

Supt. W. A. McQueen, treasurer.

Mrs. W. W. Stockstill, reporter.

The chairman appointed the program committee as follows:

S. J. Ingram, chairman; A. B. Dubuison, Miss Annie Asher, Miss Edith Haffey, Miss Saunders.

Six regular monthly meetings will be held this school term.

Supt. W. A. McQueen corrected an erroneous statement to the effect that the school term would be shortened, and stated positively the county school term would be 8 months.

In order that every available dollar may be applied to teachers' salaries which have already been greatly reduced there will not be a remuneration given for attendance at teachers meeting as has been the custom in past, but it is hoped this arrangement will not effect the attendance as there are plans for some very interesting meetings.

The program committee announces the following general assembly programs for the next session.

Address—Mr. C. J. Darby, of Perkinston, Miss.

Music by Kiln Orchestra.

Announcements—Supt. W. A. McQueen.

Mrs. Doby, chairman of the Primary Department will conduct a round table discussion on Language work for the primary grades.

Mr. Dubuison, chairman of the elementary grades, reported their topic, "Supervised Play—to be discussed by Mr. Hillis, followed by a round table discussion by the teachers.

The teachers of the county seem very enthusiastic and will try to make this a Red Letter Year in-school work in spite of depression and reduced salaries.

Date of next meeting will be announced later by the County Supt. of Education.

STATEMENT

From Mayor Traub's statement, in connection with the publication of his announcement for re-election, an omission occurs, too late to be corrected after the inside pages of this issue of The Echo had been printed. The subject referred to is the municipal band, which the city, under law, has created and assists in maintaining. It is pointed out by the Mayor and Commissioners that the municipal band is not only an advertisement for the city but a benefit for the uplift and pleasure of our own people which, otherwise might not be had, and serves Bay St. Louis to advantage.

TRAGEDY MARKS OUTING

New Orleans Girl Loses Life While Swimming—Companion Has Narrow Escape.

Minnie Lee Williams, 16 years old, of the Seventh Street Protestant Ophans' Home, New Orleans, was drowned Saturday morning opposite Waveland beach while swimming with five other girls from the orphan home. She sank after stepping into a deep hole.

The body was recovered later and prepared by the Fahey Undertaking Company and shipped to New Orleans Saturday night with the funeral Sunday afternoon from a mortuary parlor in that city. Miss Williams was 16 years of age and had been an inmate of the home for some years, it was stated by Mrs. Johnston Armstrong, president of the board of directors of the institution.

Eunice Causey, 17, also of the party of six girls who were here from New Orleans as house guests of Mrs. R. M. Murphy, member of the board of directors of the Home, who was spending the summer at Waveland, attempted to save the drowning girl and nearly lost her life, after being rescued by Harold Grace, residing nearby and who heard the cry for help. She was taken to the King's Daughters Emergency hospital, Bay St. Louis, where she was given attention and finally came to and recovered.

Harold Grace, son of Mr. John D. Grace, of New Orleans, and summer resident whose home is located near by the scene, saved the drowning girl after she had gone down for the third time. His attention was attracted by cries for help, and soon he was in the water. Two youths had already reached there before Grace, and in their attempt to save the girl experienced a narrow escape from death, it was said. One had gone down with the sinking body of Miss Causey whose weight is estimated at about two hundred pounds. Grace aided the imperiled youths to safety and dove for the girl, swimming to shallow water where he turned her over to Mr. Schriber, a long resident of Waveland.

Grace returned to the dredged hole at the edge of the channel and proceeded to dive for the body of the other girl and was soon aided by many in the search.

None in Auto Accident At Pass Last Week Had Visited Colored Club

A more recent and correct report is to the effect that none of the colored auto passengers killed, beyond Henderson Point on the Pass Christian beach roadway last Monday morning week, had visited the night club at the Point, but on the contrary, had come from some other point and were en route home. This statement is made voluntarily in justice to the colored night club operated at Henderson Point, where the utmost decorum is always maintained, it is reported.

MISS GEX IS ROTARY SPEAKER

Misses Laurin and Norma Gex, Recently Returned From Europe Are Honor Guests

Invited to be guests of Bay St. Louis' business and professional men's club, Rotary, Misses Laurin and Norma Gex, accomplished young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Gex, were present at the luncheon-meeting Wednesday noon on the occasion of their recent return home from a visit to Europe.

Miss Laurin Gex was spokeswoman and told in all-absorbing fashion of the trip to the land across the ocean and of our forefathers. Miss Gex is a clear and forceful speaker, interesting and of engaging personality. Her talk was far from the usual beaten path, giving glimpses of personal impressions. Rotary attendance was augmented by visiting local guests and others from Pass Christian and Gulfport.

Miss Gex said in part:

"When we found out that we were going to Europe it thrilled us to death, but it wasn't as much of a surprise as our being asked to speak before the Rotary club. It has always been my greatest ambition to speak before a crowd of people and it is certainly being realized. Nevertheless this is not going to be a speech. I guess you would be more interested in European politics and economic conditions, but unfortunately my traveling education has been sadly neglected along those lines.

"We left June 24 on the Vulcania. There were 25 in our party, most of them Southerners and all young people except two chaperones.

"After staying on the water eight days Fenton would have looked good, so you can imagine how we felt going into the Strait of Gibraltar with Africa on one side and Europe on the other, only eight miles apart, and the blue waters of the Mediterranean ruling the Atlantic. There were quaint little streets, narrow and winding; crowded with British soldiers in short pants, and everywhere were lovely flowers—they were lovely flowers everywhere in Europe.

"The next day we spent at Algiers. I suppose the psychological effect in knowing we were in Africa had something to do with it, but it was the most different place we saw. We were somewhat surprised at the civilization when we first landed. Street cars and five or six story buildings. But the native quarter was entirely different. It was absolutely the dirtiest, ill smelling place I've ever been in all my life. The streets were very narrow and the houses very close. We had to hold our purses very tight and watch where we stepped. There were veiled women, naked children, wicked looking, vari-colored men—food on display in the street, and flies, and filth everywhere.

"Algiers is a good place to have been!

"Cannes was next. It was just as

CLERMONT BATHING BEAUTIES

Labor Day Week-End Celebration Attracted Many—Revue Was Sunday Feature

The bathing revue and general Labor Day celebration at Clermont Harbor, under auspices of the Clermont Harbor Civic Association, attracted many from New Orleans and gulf coast points. It was estimated some fifteen hundred people attended the bathing revue Sunday afternoon while the dance on the new municipal pavilion Saturday night attracted many.

Winners of the bathing revue were Miss Sophie Schmidt as "Miss Norton Haas Lumber Company," Waveland; Miss Grace Hill as "Miss Blue Ribbon Bakery," Bay St. Louis; Miss Nina Diamond as "Miss Newport Grocery Store," in the order named. There were twenty-two entrants.

The presentation of trophies was made in an address by City Commissioner Joseph Skelly of New Orleans, as chairman of the committee of judges which included Mayor Charles Traub of Bay St. Louis, Mayor E. G. Schwart of Waveland, Joseph Chalona of Clermont Harbor, Louis N. Lang of New Orleans and Long Beach and Charles G. Moreau of Bay St. Louis.

Commissioner Skelly paid tribute to the enterprise of the association and its success in its efforts on behalf of the expansion of Clermont Harbor, the closest Gulf coast resort to the city of New Orleans, he said.

In all the Labor Day week-end celebration by the Clermont Harbor Civic Association was acclaimed a success from every angle and serves as an incentive to accelerated effort for next year at this same time.

Charles F. Jenkins, president, Joseph C. Chalona, vice president, L. A. Malony, secretary and Mich Schwartz treasurer, are officers of the association. These gentlemen and their associates are to be congratulated on the success attained.

Mr. Eugene Mogabgab was official announcer for the revue.

Before The Mayor's Court in Bay St. Louis The Past Ten Days

Louis Peters, 17, well-known colored youth of this city, and of good parents, along with Loyd Gilbert, 19, also colored, were tried before Mayor Traub, as ex-officio justice and found guilty of the charge of having stolen goods in their possession and sentenced to serve 90 days on the county roads and costs of court.

Both were charged of having goods missing from the store of Miss Josie E. Welch, who reported her loss to Chief of Police A. E. Saucier and who worked up the case with no definite clues.

"Happy" Penton, 20, of Biloxi, was found guilty by Mayor Traub on the charge of slipping whiskey to prisoners in the city jail, and given 90 days in county jail and $50.00 fine. Penton is a white man and Officer A. E. Saucier worked up the case.

He also arrested Clyde Hawthorne, colored, charged with jumping off

BAY ST. LOUIS SON DIES SUDDENLY AT BOGALUSA, LA., HOME

John Fabian Toulme Victim Of Acute Indigestion—Funeral Here Last Sunday.

John Fabian Toulme, native of Bay St. Louis, aged 43 years and one of two sons of our esteemed townspeople, Former Mayor and Mrs. Robert W. Toulme, passed away at his home in Bogalusa, La., Saturday, September 2, 1932, at 9:30 o'clock, victim of acute indigestion.

Following breakfast he was taken suddenly ill. Hastily returning to his home where his wife was alone he reported his illness. A physician and the resident priest were soon at his bedside but he was already beyond human aid.

The wake was held at his late residence Saturday night, where it is estimated about five hundred people visited during evening. Following morning remains were conveyed to Bay St. Louis, to the home of his parents in Main street and during the afternoon the funeral ceremony took place, Rev. Father Quinn, of the church of Our Lady of the Gulf officiating both at the house and church. Interment was at Cedar Rest cemetery in the family burial place.

The deceased is survived by his widow, who, before her marriage was Miss Tichie McGinty, former Bay St. Louis resident, and one child, a son, Carl Toulme aged 22 years.

In addition to his parents, wife and son Mr. Toulme is also survived by one brother, Millard Toulme, of Bay St. Louis, and five sisters, Mrs. Lillian Schell of Gulfport, Mrs. Clea Hirst of Gulfport, Mrs. Cora Strater of Slidell, Mrs. May Schell of Bogalusa, and Mrs. Pearl Sheenie of New Orleans.

The deceased was prominently connected in Bogalusa and generally popular with all who knew him. He was an exemplary citizen and identified with the leading thought and effort of the community in which he lived.

His sudden demise is an occasion for much sorrow and the bereaved ones have the sympathy of friends of two states.

and on a moving train. Mayor Traub found the prisoner guilty and fined him $1.00 and five days' city jail sentence.

Manager Morrow of the Hill Store discovered a white youth walking away with a bundle of laundered shirts that had been left on the front porch steps of the C. G. Moreau dwelling in Carroll avenue Saturday noon and pursuing the youth, who later gave his name as James Martin of Rochelave street, New Orleans found him near the auto bridge on the beach with a companion and ready to don the shirts. He marched the young men to the beach front where Officer A. E. Saucier made the arrest in front of The Echo Bldg, and recovered the stolen half dozen shirts.

Mayor Traub found Martin guilty and fined him $10.00 and costs of court and sentenced him to serve 20 days at labor on the county roads.

City Commissioner Sylvan J. Ladner is announced in this issue of The Sea Coast Echo as a candidate for re-election to the office he efficiently holds and asks the lady and gentlemen voters of Bay St. Louis to consider his candidacy in the light of his records; his efforts and achievement. If he has served them well and consistently with their best interest, always given the most for the least cost then he would solicit their support and vote on Saturday, October 8, day and date of first primary election.

A representative of The Echo asked Mr. Ladner for a statement of his work thinking that the voters would be interested in learning what efforts were exerted, how their money was spent and exactly what they received in return. Mr. Ladner was very willing and stated he would be glad to do so, with the following result, which is herewith published as an interview.

"Having announced for reelection to the office of commissioner of the city of Bay St. Louis, I think it most necessary to give a full detailed account of my stewardship, specially because of the present depression, and because it is the desire of the public to reduce taxes and cost of governmental operation.

"When the new commission form of government was formed in January, 1928, I was assigned the following duties:

"Clerk of commission council. Charge of cemeteries. Charge of waterwork system.

"The two departments first mentioned, I will not comment on at this time but suffice to say that an examination by anyone will reveal that my duties have been faithfully performed.

"The one department of city government that is most important for the safety, comfort and health of our people is the waterwork system of the city, and being of such importance, I believe it my duty to give in detail the accomplishments of the commission in that department under my supervision.

"Our present waterwork system is as complete, efficient, and sanitary as may be found anywhere in the United States for a city of this size.

"When the present commission took office and the waterwork department placed under my supervision, we had only one six-inch well, and one reservoir, at the central plant. We now have two six-inch wells and two reservoirs. The public was paying a much higher water rate. We had a balance of $3,298.63 on hand on January 1st, 1928. We owed $76,000.00 in bonds, and the interest maturing every six months on the bonds.

"Since that time we have placed permanent improvements in the waterwork system without a bond issue and paid for them in full out of current funds, as follows:

New improved roof on water work mainline's house.....	436.00
Purchase of electric transformer to save electric maintenance cost, now property of city.....	787.30
Rebuilt reservoir, and installed new sanitary ventilated roof on old reservoir increasing capacity of city an additional amount of 162,000 gallons ready for use at all times.....	8,128.56
One additional six-inch well 1200 feet deep supplying 450 gallons of water per minute.....	3,587.20
Ten thousand feet of 4 inch pipe fittings and 20 new fire plugs.....	5,437.20

Total cost of permanent improvements fully paid for without borrowing.....

$15,376.26

Also permanently improved the waterwork system by removing two-inch pipe and laying four-inch pipe in the places and in amounts as follows:

Citizen street.....	260 feet
Felicity street.....	48 feet
Gex street.....	300 feet
North Beach Blvd. at Leonard avenue to Wolf property.....	2425 feet
On Carroll avenue to Dunbar avenue.....	2073 feet
St. Charles street.....	1150 feet
Hancock street from Citizen to Ballentine street.....	420 feet
Ballentine street from Hancock street to N. Beach Blvd.....	625 feet

R. N. BLAIZE HEADS SEAFOOD COMMISSION.

COMMISSIONER R. N. Blaize of Bay St. Louis was re-elected president of the Mississippi Seafood Commission at the regular annual meeting of that body on the coast Monday, not only a compliment worthily bestowed but an indication of the right man selected for the right place.

Mr. Blaize, both by long residence on the coast and study of the seafood industry, is posted as to the best interest of protecting the seafood supply in its native waters and to serve equally as well in the instance of the industry of catching and canning. Mr. Blaize not only has made an exhaustive study of the duties incumbent upon the commission but in addition has displayed an intimate interest, giving the fullest time and attention.

As executive and directing head the Commission members could not have selected better than in re-electing Mr. Blaize president.

THE FLEET WORRIES JAPAN.

THE transfer of the entire American fleet into the Pacific ocean, if permanent, is a matter of tremendous significance to the nations of the world. While it has been the custom for the scouting fleet to leave the Atlantic ocean every year for joint manoeuvres with the Pacific, or battle fleet, the ships have usually come back to the eastern coast after the tactical games were completed.

The present concentration of warships in the Pacific is a matter of bitter comment in Japan, where the people view it as a threat against them. The responsible officials of the Japanese empire give no public utterance that puts them on record but, they probably feel the same way.

The people in this country might as well realize that Japan's present venture in Manchuria was no unconsidered move, but one made after careful thought, and with full understanding of the dangers that it possessed. However, in the island empire it is viewed as a step necessary to the life of the nation, and the party in power seems to be determined to sustain it regardless of cost.

HUNCHES COME TO BUSY MINDS.

THERE are many people who lay great stress upon "hunches" or intuitive flashes of genius. They have, it seems, some basis to justify their belief.

Sometime ago Prof. Ross A. Baker submitted a questionnaire to 1,500 research workers to ascertain their opinion of such "inspiration." Their answers showed that hunches came to many of them while walking to work, fishing, bathing, dreaming or relaxing after dinner. Organic chemists, particularly, were given to relying upon a kind of instinct rather than upon cold logic in selecting promising vitas for further pursuit.

However, let no lazy reader of The Echo get the wrong idea. Such flashes do not illuminate darkened minds. Rather do they come only after deep concentration. It seems that the mental powers continue to work on problems after the conscious mind has put them aside, and, occasionally, the earnest student is happily surprised by a sudden "Eureka" to the brain.

FOR CASH PAYMENT.

ANNOUNCEMENT is made that the majority of the delegates to the next convention of the American Legion will favor recommending the immediate payment in cash of the adjusted service compensation certificates.

In their convention last year the members of the Legion voted against immediate cash payments. In the meantime, however, many of the veterans have been suffering need during the economic adversity, and many changed for this reason. Then, the idea of cash payment seemed a little hard, with the national treasury so far in the red, but gradually the appeal of cash payment won over many supporters.

Sooner or later the nation will pay this obligation, and it doesn't seem that it would make much difference whether the debt was due investors or the ex-soldiers. Cash payment will probably be realized during the next congressional session.

For the last two weeks Congressman Hall and his young red-headed opponent have been on the stump and their respective friends have been active in their behalf. No sharp issues have developed between the two, Mr. Hall contenting himself with explaining his record and pointing out that he has achieved distinction by being made chairman of the Committee on Irrigation and Reclamation. Mr. Colmer, insists that this committee is of no value to people of Mississippi, as its jurisdiction is over arid and waste lands of the West and Northwest, and that its work only increases the amount of farm land and reduces the value of farmers crops in the South.

With the nomination of a candidate in the sixth district, the list of seven nominees for the state will be complete. The other six districts have chosen their candidates, and these with the man selected next Tuesday in the sixth district will go on the November ballot as party candidates from the state at large, according to orders of the State Executive Committee.

COLMER FOR CONGRESS.

LIVING up to the promise of fighting qualities indicated by his red head, W. M. 'Bill' Colmer, present district attorney of the coast counties and candidate for congress from the sixth district, is waging a vigorous, aggressive campaign for nomination in the only run-off made necessary by the balloting on August 23, six congressmen having been renominated in the first primary.

Although Mr. Colmer was practically unknown in the northern counties of the district when he entered the race for congress several months ago, he surprised political prognosticators by prancing in ahead of the field, distancing by a substantial margin such oldtimers of the Mississippi political race-track as the incumbent, Robert S. Hall of Hattiesburg, and ex-Congressman T. Webber Wilson of Laurel and another entry, J. Calvin Broom, Marion county's favorite son, like Mr. Colmer, a newcomer of the state political scene.

Though Representative Hall climbed, in the late returns, to within eighty-three ballots of Colmer's vote and momentarily he threatened his lead, the downstate district attorney later drew away again, final tabulations giving him a lead of over seven hundred.

Political observers had expected Colmer to pile up a tremendous vote in the coast counties, where he has served as county attorney for one term and as district attorney for two but they were utterly unprepared for the impressive vote he polled in the northern strongholds of Congressman Hall and Wilson.

Mr. Colmer has spent most of the past week in the northwestern counties of the district, Jeff Davis, Lawrence and Marion.

He indicated his extreme gratification at the assurances of support of former adherents of Mr. Wilson and Mr. Broom with which he has been met everywhere.

ANOTHER "DIGEST" POLL.

A PRESIDENTIAL poll of the states will soon be undertaken by the Literary Digest, nationally circulated weekly.

This magazine has conducted several nationwide ballots in the past, circulating as many as twenty million blanks for their selected electorate to use in indicating their choice.

In 1924 and 1928 the Digest conducted presidential polls of the voters in the states, and predicted with remarkable accuracy the final, official action of the voters at the polls in November.

Earlier this year the Digest took a poll of the states on the prohibition question, the result of which surprised many, and, probably, as the Digest says, "helped to revise the policies of presidential candidates."

Oftentimes, there are criticisms of the Digest's honesty in the polls, but this can be dismissed. The magazine has too much at stake in striving for accuracy of prediction to deliberately falsify the count. A few mistakes might occur unintentionally, but the poll, we believe, is impartial.

The magazine spends hundreds of thousands of dollars, but it gets a paying return in increased circulation through sales on the newsstands and subscriptions which come in. The polls are a paying proposition from a commercial standpoint.

ADVERTISING PAYS.

ADVERTISING to pay must be in the right medium, in the right manner, and at the right time.

Just because someone is willing to spend a little money with a newspaper does not mean that he is an advertiser. It may show that he is a spendthrift.

The Sea Coast Echo believes firmly in the power of advertising in its columns. We feel certain that it will help the business upon which it is spent. However, no advertiser should get the foolish idea that all he has to do is to put any old thing in a printed appeal and the magic of advertising will bring home the bacon.

Successful advertisers are men and women who have studied the art, who understand some of the psychology which sways buyers and know enough about the things to be advertised to be able to buy and sell them correctly.

For Bay St. Louis merchants advertising is not the most important part of their business. It is, however, an important factor in merchandising which has demonstrated its power to produce sales results. It should be utilized for that purpose, and not other.

We have no objection to any person spending money as he or she deems proper, but it sometimes gives us a pain in the neck to see what some merchants buy and charge to "advertising."

TO GROW BANANAS ANYWHERE.

TROPICAL fruits, such as bananas, and semi-tropical fruit, such as grapefruit, oranges and lemons, may soon be growing in Northern climates, according to an epoch-making discovery in plant breeding recently announced at Cornell University during the International Congress of genetics.

As a result of the study made by Dr. T. D. Lyssenko, the crossing of varieties of seeds requiring different periods of vegetation is declared possible. This points the way for the creation of many new varieties of fruit and other foods and the same process of shortening the period of growth makes possible the movement northward of Southern fruit, vegetables and flowers.

Moreover, Dr. Lyssenko found simple physiological methods of transferring certain winter varieties into spring varieties and late varieties into early ones by a treatment of the seeds before sowing.

The discovery thus announced would have incalculable economic significance throughout the world if it proves practical. For example, there might be developed new food plants to allure the favor of mankind. Moreover, the possibility of transferring the habitant of tropical flora northward would have vast results.

The people of Hancock county ought to support their home newspaper, if they want one published in the old home town.

WITH THE STATE PRESS.

PRO AND CON.

THE Guide is being flooded with prohibition comment—some commend, many criticize. But none of the drys offer a solution. They rant and quote scripture but they seem oblivious to the fact that the country is now wet, drippingly so. Blind to facts and drunk on their convictions they cannot see the correcting influence of reform and improvement. They visualize the saloon but forget the speakeasy—a thing much worse in its vile insidiousness.

They have not shown us yet where "prohibition" is mentioned anywhere in the Holy Bible. It is neither in the ten Commandments or the Sermon on the Mount.

They forget that the one man God spared in the Great Flood was Noah whose first act when he struck dry land was to plant some grapes, and impatiently await the harvest to celebrate "the promise."

They forget that one of Christ's most astounding miracles was to convert water into wine, and the wedding guests said it was good.

They puff their pipes, chew their cuds with much concern, forgetting that tobacco is an alkaloid poison serving no medical purpose except as an insecticide, while alcohol is generally prescribed by physicians everywhere. They say alcohol is poison while they have to put poison in rubbing compounds to keep folks from drinking it.

The only way out of the slavery of tobacco and alcohol lies in education and temperance. The country will go wet again and then gradually dryer, and beer and wine may be made available in the next Congress.

Until then the miracle workers will brew at home and distill in secret while the racketeers continue to run the country.—Gulfport Guide.

GOVERNMENT PRINTING RACKET BLEEDS THE TAXPAYERS OF STATE.

THE Stone County Enterprise, well edited and managed by Mrs. O. L. Bond, calls attention to the wanton waste of the government printing office, a waste that falls upon the taxpayers of the country.

Mrs. Bond well calls it a "racket" and the people of the nation should raise such a "racket" that those in power in Washington will be compelled to put into operation in that department at least some semblance of economy.

This is the comment of Mrs. Bond: "The United States government scatters approximately 300,000 pamphlets, documents and bound books over the country every working day. In the 1931 fiscal year the Printing Office issued almost 3,500,000 copies of printed matter. It is now doing still better. In the six months following July 1, 1931, the amount of type set was 129,000,000 ems greater than in the same period the previous year."

"This is at a time when taxes of all kinds have jumped, in the face of a lowered national income. The government printing department offers a fertile field for some real and needed economy."—Jackson Clarion-Ledger.

THE PECAN CROP.

ELSEWHERE in this issue of The Guide a letter by Roy A. Sleep, Field Service Manager of the National Pecan Growers Exchange, is published. While the last government report estimates a 37 per cent crop in this production area, those who have investigated the matter are inclined to believe that we will be 20 per cent of last year.

At any rate production this year justifies the observation that prices will be much higher and that those who sacrifice their crop too early on a 37 per cent estimate will be losing money. So hold your pecans until production for this year can be more definitely determined.—Gulfport Guide.

SOME VERY FOOLISH ADVICE GIVEN TO GOV. CONNER.

THE Port Gibson Reveille is of the opinion that Governor Conner has been given some very foolish advice, or "has deliberately gone out of his realm as chief executive of the state in attempting to defeat the three Highway Commissioners."

The Governor likes that word "dictator." He wants a "dictator" in the Highway Department that will be "dictated" to by him.

He knows that he will not realize this ambition unless he can defeat Abe Linker and Jim Thames, and if his friends will be reasonably frank with him, they will tell him to hold up, that he cannot beat either one of them.

The Reveille says:

"Governor Conner has either taken some very foolish advice or deliberately gone out of his realm as chief executive of the state in attempting to defeat the three highway commissioners."

"It is entirely out of place for the governor to attempt to control the other departments of government that do not come under his jurisdiction. If he follows the footsteps of our other governors in attempting to gain control of more than that which justly belongs to his office it will be detrimental to his administration and likewise to the state. The commissioners have performed their duties well and certainly the citizens

FAMOUS NEW ORLEANS FRENCH MARKET DOOMED TO GO AFTER HISTORIC SERVICE SINCE 1791

GHOSTS of old New Orleans' great and near-great, forced to flee their favorite haunt when flames swept the historic French opera house, in the Vieux Carre a decade ago, recently faced another eviction as twentieth century progress turned thumbs down on the venerable French Market, center of curb-stone barter and trade in New Orleans, the foreign-flavored city for nearly 150 years.

Stallkeepers whose stands have been passed down from generation to generation since the Spanish flag flew over the place d'Armes, heard with mixed emotions an announcement of the city commission council that a $700,000 white tile and electrified establishment would soon replace the picturesque low-roofed building with its gaudy awnings where Andrew Jackson fed his men after Chalmette and Gallien masters once sent ashore their continental silks and oils to be displayed along the sidewalks.

In spite of rigid health department supervision, much of the establishment, with its jammed fruit stands, mountains of country produce, tons of fish and fresh-killed game, all scalloped about with sidewalk coffee tables, still remains much of the atmosphere of a more leisurely day and time.

For years, the city has threatened to do away with the ancient mart, but always lovers of the antique have howled the movement down. Now a plan has been approved to lease the extensive property to a private corporation which with the city participating will erect an immense glistening white market center that will be the last word in modernness.

Razing the old structure will mark the passing of one of New Orleans' best known spots considered by many the very heart of the Old French quarter.

The market, stretching for three solid blocks between the Mississippi river levees and the plaza in front of St. Louis cathedral, was originally built as a trading point by the Spaniards in 1791. A storm laid low its acres of stalls in 1812, but the French

THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS OF HANCOCK COUNTY.

By Emilio Cue, President. A. G. Favre, Clerk.

It is therefore ordered and adjudged, that the said assessments rolls, and the assessments therein contained, be and they are hereby accepted approved and made final, and that the final recapitulation of said assessments rolls be certified to the State Tax Commission on blanks furnished by it, within ten days after the adjournment of this meeting as provided by Section 3175, Mississippi Code of 1930; and as required by law.

Every niche and corner of the place is said to have a history, to have known the tread of great men and grand dames of other regimes who gathered there as their descendants gather there now for "French drip" coffee such as the stallkeepers will tell you is served nowhere else in the world.

By R. H. BRYSON,
(County Agent)

AN INVITATION

To Cattlemen, Farmers, Truck Growers and Business Men of Hancock County.

To those of you who do not know, this is to advise that my office is in the Courthouse, and I shall be glad to meet you at community gatherings or in my office to discuss farm and general agricultural problems if you have any.

I shall be glad to render you all service possible. It is impossible to anticipate your wants, therefore, this invitation to present your problems and let's try to solve them.

Yours truly,

R. H. BRYSON,
County Agent.

SOIL, PLANT FOOD AND CROP PRODUCTION.

Animal and plant life depend upon plant food for their existence. The object of agriculture is to convert plant food into crops—the kind needed by men and animals.

To do this most successfully, one must know what constitutes plant food. One must know what elements of plant food exist in the soil and whether or not these elements are in a form that the plants can use. How to supply the plant food that the soil lacks and how to manage the soil so that it will feed the crops, in the most economical way, must be determined.

One can learn what constitutes plant food by making a chemical analysis of the plant. The plant food in the soil, and how much of it is in an available form for use of the plants, can also be determined by making a chemical analysis of the soil before the plant is grown. Then if a chemical analysis is made of the plant after it is grown, it will show about how much of the plant food of the soil is available to the crop.

To know how to manage the soil so that it will release its plant food to the best advantage, must, however, be learned by trying out different methods and carefully noting which is the best.

Agriculture is a broad science. To develop it to its highest perfection one should know something of botany, chemistry, geology and physics.

Plant Food Statement

One of the first things to be determined about the plant food of soils is its income and its outgo.

Scientists tell us there are six sources of income: namely, air nitrogen via legumes, fertilizer, rain, vegetable matter, manure, and mineral deposits. If we study the origin of soil we find that the bulk of it came from rock. Rock decomposition or disintegration is still in progress and as a consequence there is still a gradual but light contribution of the mineral elements of plant food from that source.

The air is a source of nitrogen. Through the medium of a nitrogen fixing bacteria operating in root nodules of legumes some of the nitrogen of the air is taken and made a part of the plant roots or plant residue and is thus added to the soil's store of nitrogen.

Rain carries into the soil some of the elements of plant food but not enough of the kind most needed to materially increase productivity. It carries a little nitrogen some sulphur, and of course, hydrogen and oxygen. All vegetable matter left on the soil or applied to it contains plant food. Root, stubbles, leaves, straw, stalks, weeds and grass which have sprung up, are all sources of plant food.

When the crops have been fed, the barnyard manure left contains plant food that can be returned to the soil. Then there are fertilizers which are added to the soil to make up for the soil's shortcomings and to increase its cropping power.

The Outgo

We will also learn that there are six sources of outgo of plant food from the soil. The greatest outgo is, of course, through the crops. Plant food may be sold off the farm in crops such as corn which goes to the market, the cotton to the spinners, etc. The crops may be fed and the animal products such as meat, milk, butter, eggs, etc., which contain some of the plant food will be sent away from the farm.

Not more than 20 to 25 per cent of the plant food that was in the crops is retained in the bodies of the animals. The balance is given off in the barnyard manure. It is, however, not practical to collect all the solid and liquid manure; and there is also loss through leaching and fermenting.

Aside from the loss of plant food via crops and livestock there is a direct loss from the soil by surface washing or erosion, and by leaching into the underground waters.

Nitrogen is lost from the soil not only by erosion and leaching but it goes away from the soil into the air as a gas because of the oxidation and denitrification going on in the soil.

Having seen how soils are contributed to, and their losses, it is apparent that there is important work to do to maintain a balance between the income and outgo.

Winter Growing Legumes Valuable

The practice of planting legume crops which grow during the winter months offer the cheapest and best method of increasing the soil's plant food supply, and to maintain its productivity. The Austrian Pea and Hairy Vetch seem to be the best winter growing legumes found so far for this purpose. The seed should be planted September 25th to October 15th for best results, and under average weather conditions on properly prepared soil the crop produces a green weight growth by April 1st of five to seven tons, and equal in fertilizing value of 400 to 600 pounds of nitrate of soda.

These legumes must have Phosphate. On land without a heavy residue of phosphate from previous application, so it should be applied ahead of planting, and the seed sown separately.

The seed of these crops must be inoculated before sown.

"The laying of these new lines for new subscribers has been a considerable cost of labor which has been sprung up and without borrowing.

"In addition to those expenses previously mentioned, the water tower was painted twice at a cost of $583.19.
Purchased waterwork truck at a cost of $513.00.
"By placing the waterwork system at such a high standard, we have reduced the demand charge for electricity from $105.00 to $47.50 per month.

"Notwithstanding all of these permanent improvements and the extension of the system we have reduced the water rent.

Water rent reduced to the public during last four years as follows:

"In 1927 water rent for general use $8.00, tub $3.00, toilet $3.00, Total $14.00.
"In 1928 water rent for general use $7.00, tub $2.50, toilet $2.50, total $12.00.
"In 1932 water rent for general use $6.00, tub $2.50, toilet $2.50, total $11.00.

"The total amount of pipe laid was 11,071 feet of two and three-inch pipe. 1210 feet was bought and the balance of 9861 feet of the two-inch pipe was salvaged out of the ground under the streets, which pipe was abandoned prior to this administration.

We have paid off $25,000.00 of work bonds.
"There is a balance of $9,000 to the credit of the waterwork fund. The outstanding waterwork bonds are callable bonds, and by a continuance of the economy policy inaugurated and carried by the city, I am confident that we can pay off the bonds and myself as head of a department. All outstanding waterwork bonds and all other city bonds can be paid and retired within the next six years, and the taxes and water charge can be materially reduced, and if re-elected I propose to continue that policy for the benefit of the people of our city. I take occasion at this time to invite people of the city to visit and inspect our waterwork plant.

I favor all improvements for the benefit of the people of the city, and especially a municipal pier. But without issuing bonds and without increasing taxation and to maintain a basis so that funds can be obtained from it operation to pay for its construction and maintenance. If I am re-elected, my foremost thought and energies in the future will be as in the past, directed always towards the reduction of taxes and a reduction of the cost of operating our City Government.

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

Douglas Fairbanks is off again for a big game hunt in Japan, China and Manchuria. He expects to continue into Mongolia, wander through Siberia, into Europe and meet his wife in Paris. Quite likely, he will bring back an adventure picture with him.

... Gloria Swanson, supported by an English cast, is making a picture in England, dealing with companionate marriage. ... Edward G. Robinson, just finishing "Silver Dollar," will start a new story early next month. ... Norma Shearer, after winning a beauty contest in 1920, hung around New York for six months before getting into a picture.

... Irene Dunn—the Sabre Cravat of Cimarron—completed a law course after beginning her stage career but went back to the stage. Now she lives with her mother in the Hollywood hills. ... Myra Loy, MGM's sinuous siren, was born in Helena, Montana and aspired to become a sculptress. ... Sydney Franklin, American bull fighter, gave technical advice to the staff for use in Eddie Cantor's "The Kid From Spain." ... Jack Holt, who is just finishing "The Sporting Age" will be a policeman in his next picture, which may be called "Plain Clothesmen."

Adolphe Menjou is off to Europe for a vacation, having just completed his part in "A Farewell to Arms" which is expected to be released soon. ... Hollywood has under way more than sixty feature stories at this time with Paramount, working on ten.

Fox has nine, RKO 8, MGM 6; Columbia and Warner Bros. 5 each and United Artists and Universal 3 each. ... Radio, taking advantage of the news in the Libby Holman case plans to star Arlene Judge in "Torch Singer." ... RKO will put John Barrymore in "The Public Be Damned" based on the life of a financier. ... "Red Dust" should be underway with Mary Astor as the "other woman." Jean Harlowe and Clark Gable will star in this picture of Indo-China.

"These tax reductions were made under serious adverse conditions first because of the necessity of the permanent improvements previously mentioned and second, because of the city being compelled under these depressed times and conditions to take a great amount of property for delinquent taxes.

"If re-elected to the office of the mayor it is my purpose and intention to continue to reduce the taxes, and to pay off all outstanding bonded obligations of the city, so that the city will be bond free within the next six years.

"During my administration, the police department was under my supervision. The police were made to wear uniforms so that strangers could distinguish them from civilians, which materially assisted in enforcing the law.

"I have no other vocation or calling, no business ties whatever that have or will take me away from the business of the office of mayor, or that would cause me to neglect the duties of that office, and if re-elected, will continue to give all of my time, thought and energy to the office, for the benefit of the people in this city.

"It also has been by special ambition and endeavor to make the city of Bay St. Louis the principal city on the Coast to which the people of New Orleans and the States of Louisiana and Mississippi would come to enjoy week-ends, holidays and the summer season.

"Have made a special effort to have the officers of the city, as well as the city employees, to make all visitors feel at home and comfortable without unnecessarily interfering with them when they are out for a good time and at the same time making all persons obey the law. It will be my endeavor as heretofore, if re-elected to try at all times to keep the city of Bay St. Louis before the eyes of the outside public, and to encourage them to spend their pleasure and vacation period in Bay St. Louis and establish this city as their residence permanently. To do this, I realize that the taxes on real estate must be continually reduced, and that no friction should exist in the policies of administering the city's affairs, or in the Commission, so that the homeseekers or property owners and business interests will know that the affairs of the city are handled honestly, conservatively and judiciously.

"If favor the construction of the municipal pier, but I do not favor the issuing of bonds for its construction or the placing of additional burdens on the property owners of the city for its construction or maintenance. I believe the cost of the pier should be paid out of the general fund of the city without an increase of tax levy, and it can be done and administered so the amount would be paid back willingly by the visiting public. The pier should be constructed under such business plans so that the concession on the pier will pay for its construction and maintenance.

"I believe that with a careful, economical operation of the city's affairs the streets of the city can be hard surfaced without the issuance of bonds, and without the raising of taxes.

"The expenditure of $71,777.24 for improvements demonstrates this, and if re-elected to the high office of mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, I propose to continue to give the city the same honest, conservative, economical, constructive administration I have given in the past four and one half years."

that the tax levies and assessments of the city of Bay St. Louis have decreased while the federal and other branches of government have increased taxes.

"The taxpayers of the city have been saved large sums of money which cannot be accurately estimated, due to the efficient fire fighting apparatus purchased and installed, the improvement of the waterwork plant, and the great increase of the water supply, all accomplished by my administration.

"This branch of the administration, was the first city administration to have 24 hour per day fire protection service, and employing three men to operate the engine and waterwork plant in conjunction. It gave the city of Bay St. Louis more than ample supply of water and fire protection during the 24 hours of the day, while the burden of cost of this new fire department was never experienced before, the taxes and water rent have been constantly reduced.

"In 1928 my administration made a three mill reduction in the tax levy, giving tax payers $9(120.00) annually. In 1930, the tax levy was reduced 4 mills saving tax payers $12,160.00 annually. In 1932, this year, all assessments have been reduced ten percent, saving the tax payers the sum of $6,022.50 annually, or a grand total savings to the tax payers since 1928 of $88,102.50.

"As to the ten percent reduction in the assessments for 1932, I would appreciate all property owners making an investigation of their assessments on our records, so when this is doubted, all persons can be prepared to answer as to the correctness thereof.

"As to the correctness of the reduction of the tax levy for the past four years, I respectfully ask that you look at your tax receipts for each year.

"These tax reductions were made under serious adverse conditions first because of the necessity of the permanent improvements previously mentioned and second, because of the city being compelled under these depressed times and conditions to take a great amount of property for delinquent taxes.

"If re-elected to the office of the mayor it is my purpose and intention to continue to reduce the taxes, and to pay off all outstanding bonded obligations of the city, so that the city will be bond free within the next six years.

"During my administration, the police department was under my supervision. The police were made to wear uniforms so that strangers could distinguish them from civilians, which materially assisted in enforcing the law.

"I have no other vocation or calling, no business ties whatever that have or will take me away from the business of the office of mayor, or that would cause me to neglect the duties of that office, and if re-elected, will continue to give all of my time, thought and energy to the office, for the benefit of the people in this city.

"It also has been by special ambition and endeavor to make the city of Bay St. Louis the principal city on the Coast to which the people of New Orleans and the States of Louisiana and Mississippi would come to enjoy week-ends, holidays and the summer season.

"Have made a special effort to have the officers of the city, as well as the city employees, to make all visitors feel at home and comfortable without unnecessarily interfering with them when they are out for a good time and at the same time making all persons obey the law. It will be my endeavor as heretofore, if re-elected to try at all times to keep the city of Bay St. Louis before the eyes of the outside public, and to encourage them to spend their pleasure and vacation period in Bay St. Louis and establish this city as their residence permanently. To do this, I realize that the taxes on real estate must be continually reduced, and that no friction should exist in the policies of administering the city's affairs, or in the Commission, so that the homeseekers or property owners and business interests will know that the affairs of the city are handled honestly, conservatively and judiciously.

"If favor the construction of the municipal pier, but I do not favor the issuing of bonds for its construction or the placing of additional burdens on the property owners of the city for its construction or maintenance. I believe the cost of the pier should be paid out of the general fund of the city without an increase of tax levy, and it can be done and administered so the amount would be paid back willingly by the visiting public. The pier should be constructed under such business plans so that the concession on the pier will pay for its construction and maintenance.

"I believe that with a careful, economical operation of the city's affairs the streets of the city can be hard surfaced without the issuance of bonds, and without the raising of taxes.

"The expenditure of $71,777.24 for improvements demonstrates this, and if re-elected to the high office of mayor of the City of Bay St. Louis, I propose to continue to give the city the same honest, conservative, economical, constructive administration I have given in the past four and one half years."

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

During the World War we heard a great deal about saving food. Waste was to be avoided by using left over foods. Many of us worked out recipes that were even more delicious than those made when the food was first cooked. Be sure your left over dish is palatable and does not have a warmed over taste.

Ham Patties.

1 1/2 cups minced ham
2 eggs
1 cup cracker crumbs
Milk, salt and pepper mixed together, ham, cracker crumbs and beaten eggs, salt and pepper to taste. Moisten with enough milk to make into patties. Fry in deep fat.

Mock Sausage.

Put 3 cups of cold cooked butter beans or peas through a strainer. Add 2-3 cup bread crumbs 2 tablespoons melted butter, 3 beaten eggs, salt and pepper to taste. Shape like sausages and roll in bread again. Brown in a frying pan with a small quantity of hot fat. Serve with tomato juice or chili sauce.

Potato Cheese Balls.

2 cups mashed potatoes
1/2 cup grated cheese
1 egg—1/2 cup bread crumbs, salt to taste.
Put potatoes in bowl, add grated cheese and pinch of salt. Mix well and make into round balls. Roll balls in beaten egg and in bread crumbs until well covered. Put in medium oven and brown.

Asparagus Omelet.

2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
3-4 cup diced cooked asparagus
6 eggs
Pepper
Melt the butter, add the flour and smooth to a paste. Add the milk and stir until a smooth sauce is formed. Add the asparagus and salt. Separate the eggs beat the yolks thoroughly and add to the sauce. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites. Add pepper to taste and pour into a heated pan containing 2 tablespoons butter. Bake in a slow oven for 25 minutes. Serve at once with a tart jelly.

Fruit Sponge.

1 cup fruit pulp (peaches, cooked apples, cooked prunes or apricots).
Whites of 3 eggs
Few grains of salt
Sugar to taste
Rub the fruit through a strainer. Add sugar and salt. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold in the fruit mixture. Turn into mold 3-4 full, place in pan of hot water, put in moderate oven. Bake until firm. Serve with custard sauce.

Custard Sauce.

3 egg yolks
1 cup milk, scalded
1/4 cup sugar
Few grains salt, few drops vanilla
Beat the yolks slightly, add sugar, salt and vanilla. Add the scalded milk gradually. Cook over hot water until mixture coats the spoon. Chill thoroughly before using.

Another story is that Commissioner Landis has passed out the word to major league clubs banning Rajah Hornsby as a prospective manager because of gambling activities. Rogers is credited with racing track proclivities and, while no public statement has been made, there may be something behind the report. However, Hornsby may regain the good graces of the baseball czar. If he does, he has a chance to replace Harris at Detroit in the event that Bush cannot be persuaded to take the job.

COMMENT ON SPORTS BY SHERIDAN

Army and Navy to Play To Change Managers Johnson, Harris, Hornsby and Bush
Cubs vs. Yankees
Walker to Try Hard
Miss Jacobs' Comment.

Declaring a truce after five years of broken athletic relations, because of conflicting views on standards of eligibility, the Navy and Army have agreed to resume rivalry for three years in all branches of sports. The service crews have not patched up their differences but reached their understanding in an effort to avoid late post-season games, such as those played for charity in the past two years.

The first game of the new series will be played at Franklin Field, at Philadelphia, on December 3rd, with the provision that part of the receipts will be used for relief purposes.

While the service crews broke off relations in 1927 they met in 1930 and 1931 in New York, where all the receipts went to charity. The game is one of the greatest attractions of the sporting year and invariably draws a crowd limited only by the size of the stadium. The cause of the breach was the difference in eligibility rules. The Navy does not permit a man to have but three years of varsity competition, while the Army has no restrictions. This permits the Army to use players who have had their three years at other institutions. The two schools have played 32 games, with the Army winning 17, the Navy 12, and three ties. The Navy has not won a game since 1921 although it managed to get ties in 1923 and 1926.

Rumors of impending managerial changes in the major leagues begin to crop out as the season nears its end. Report is that Bucky Harris, now managing Detroit, will replace Walter Johnson as manager of the Washington Senators. Harris it will be remembered, won two pennants and one world's championship in Washington before being replaced by the "Big Train." Clark Griffith is said to be dissatisfied with Johnson's accomplishments this season, as well as last year, and believes that the trading of Bunk Hadley and Carl Fisher cost his club the pennant.

In the event that this goes thru the understanding is that Donie Bush will replace Harris at Detroit. Bush was the Tiger shortstop for more than ten years and the vital spark in the team when it was a terror. He is credited with laying the foundation for the pennants won by Harris at Washington. Later, he brought Pittsburgh in as a winner, did a good job with the hopeless White Sox and after being sent to the American Association brought Minneapolis to the top.

Another story is that Commissioner Landis has passed out the word to major league clubs banning Rajah Hornsby as a prospective manager because of gambling activities. Rogers is credited with racing track proclivities and, while no public statement has been made, there may be something behind the report. However, Hornsby may regain the good graces of the baseball czar. If he does, he has a chance to replace Harris at Detroit in the event that Bush cannot be persuaded to take the job.

Congressman From Meridian District Visits Bay City

Congressman Ross Collins, of the Fifth Mississippi District, residing at Meridian, who has been resting on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, registered at a Biloxi hotel, after a strenuous campaign for re-election defeating his opponent, S. A. Witherspoon by a heavy majority, was a visitor to Bay St. Louis Friday afternoon mingling with friends of this section, Mr. W. J. Gex, Former Representative R. L. Genin and others.

"Although out of my district" he said, "I am always glad to get back to the Coast and to visit my friends in this section of Bay St. Louis and its people always has an appeal to me. Some of my best coast friends reside in Hancock county."

Congressman Collins has been serving his people for about twelve years in the halls of congress and is now chairman of the Rivers and Harbors Committee, always a most enviable assignment.

tires through injuries or illness or is removed by the umpire. If he is relieved 'because of ineffectiveness' or because it seemed necessary to save the game, he is not to be credited with the victory.

The Chicago Cubs appear to have the National League pennant in a bag, barring a debacle such as that which afflicted the Pirates several weeks ago. With such pitchers as, Warneke, Malone, Root and Grimes the team gives opposing batters plen of poison. Of course the Cubs must face determined foes but, at this writing, it looks as if the Yankee-Cub duel in the world series is settled.

Boxing experts believe the Max Schmeling is suffering from lack of action during the past three years. They point out his failure to show against Sharkey the same stuff that he had against Stribling and put it down to rust. Schmeling needs to fight some in order to develop his best but there does not seem so much prospect of stern opposition.

Mickey Walker, undoubtedly a game little fighter, can hardly be considered the type of opponent to bring out a real champion's superlative work. The fact that Walker got the match with Schmeling at New York on the 19th illustrates the shrewdness of Jack Kearns, his manager. In the face of disappointing performances against Levinsky, Uzdun and Risko, the crafty Kearns argued his man into the match. Even the last decision to Risko could not hold him back.

Fans may assume that Walker will be at his best when he fights Schmeling—far better than when he scuffled around with his recent opponents, whom he considered soft and consequently neglected his training. Don't forget that Walker fought a 15-round draw against Sharkey about a year ago and that Doc Kearns' ambition is to manage another heavyweight champion. Such a combination ought to put Mickey in the ring at his best. However, don't misunderstand us! It should be Schmeling's fight.

The New York Athletic Commission has rescinded its rules against champions going out of their class to fight opponents. This has heretofore blocked many good fights, which would have appealed to fans. Bouts between champions of different divisions, such as lightweight and welterweight, etc., have you would have imagined it with perhaps a trifle more glamour—something like Atlantic City.

"We landed at Naples the next day, July 4. Altogether we stayed in Italy two weeks and we were very fortunate in catching good weather. Sometimes it was pretty warm going through Pompeii we nearly died, but nothing to what they said it usually is. We saw Rome, Florence, Sorrento, Capri, Milan and Venice. When we left we felt as though there really couldn't be any more art in Europe—or it couldn't be worth seeing. It's a pretty country—lovely flowers and picturesque spots—and Mussolini has done much to clean it up and regulate things such as train schedules never was one late. "But best of all was Switzerland. The scenery was exquisite. The first place we came to was Montreux and in my opinion the loveliest. We also saw Interlaken, Geneva (the home of the League of Nations), and Lucerne and took an all day ride through the Alps in an open bus—and even though we nearly froze we saw the Alps.

Next was Austria. The German language was so impossible and the money so unstable that we didn't enjoy it quite as much. Vienna was fine—quite modern, but I'm afraid not quite as gay as one hears.

We were delighted with Prague and the Czech people, yet though we only stayed there a day and a half. The main point of interest was the Astronomical Clock that you see in Fox News where the apostles pass.

The main thing I remember about Germany is the good food—and did we eat? Berlin was the liveliest place we saw, even gayer than Paris. Heidelberg was extremely interesting.

We were lucky in that the night we were there was the end of the session and we got to see the students celebrating in the duelling hall. There are twenty-five fraternities one of them Jewish and seven copanities which are composed of the nobility and whom we saw celebrating. In order to become a member a boy must have fought 7 duels and if he ducks or cries when his wounds are sewed up, which is done without anesthetics he is thrown out. However brutal it sounds they claim it to be less dangerous than football since no one has ever been killed duelling. It may be of interest to know that the new university building was given by a group of American men. They may talk about how poor Germany is but we didn't see any signs of depression.

The next country we went to was Holland. The low country, windmills and the people in their native costumes were very picturesque. The Hague, the capital of Holland is very modern and we had to go to Holland down and Marker Island to see typical Holland. We spent a day in Belgium but there was little to see there in comparison to all we had seen.

"Paris was next. We were a little disappointed in the shopping but I guess it was because we couldn't afford to get Chanel's and Worth's models. It all depends upon the kind of mood you are in whether you like Paris or not. At times you love it and then at other times it was just another place. We went to some great night clubs. Of course we saw the Louvre, Arch de Triumphe, Napoleon Tomb, the Tomb of Unknown Soldier, Champelises and all the things you have heard of all your life and there is nothing new I can tell you about them except how interesting they all were. We stayed in Paris five days. Then we left for London. It sounded so good to hear English again after all the struggling we had been through trying to speak French. London looks like New York City. The night life was very dead but we saw some excellent plays.

"We left on August 13 on the Rotterdam and landed the 21st. All in all it was a wonderful trip. We saw some wonderful palaces such as San Soucci and Versailles where we saw the fountains play, also Mal Maison. "While in London we visited the charming centers of England, including Oxford University. We saw the home of Shakespeare and also Anne H. home.

"It was a wonderful trip—more thrilling than we had even expected it to be, but home and Bay St. Louis was reached with more enthusiasm than even Paris."

We bid our summer members, Au Revoir, trusting they will carry good news, and substantially increase the membership next season.

Mr. C. Cavin of Clermont Harbor after last week's blow, caught a deep water "Horse Shoe Crab." It weighed about 5 lbs.

Mr. and Mrs. N. N. Hingle and family left Monday afternoon for their home in New Orleans after spending a most enjoyable month at Clermont Harbor. Mr. Hingle spent most of the week-ends playing golf with Coast friends who regret his leaving. Praising the Gulf Coast, both Mr. and Mrs. Hingle expect to return again next summer.

Automobiles Collide At Intersection Main And Second Streets

Shortly before 7 o'clock Saturday morning two automobiles crashed at the intersection of Main and Second streets with painful injury to the driver of each and serious damage to both cars.

Chevrolet coach driven by M. J. Pinski, representing the Joan Candy Company 317 Magazine Street, New Orleans was coming up Main street, headed for the beach front and a Pontiac car driven by Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, of Bay St. Louis, was traveling over Second street in a direction headed towards the railroad crossing a block away. The Lacoste car caught the Pinski car broadside and turen it around. In swerving by the impact the car struck a water plug and sign post on the premises of the Main Street Methodist church and was damaged to the extent of approximately one hundred dollars it was said at Chevrolet headquarters. Mr. Pinski was slightly injured about the knee, it was stated.

Mrs. Lacoste sustained greater and more painful injury cut about the body and put to bed for treatment. Her car was also badly damaged by the impact, the radiator and adjacent parts wrecked.

Mrs. Lacoste had spent the night at the King's daughters hospital in professional capacity and was on her way home. Attempting to cross Second street she did not see the other car approaching until it was too late.

No blame and no investigation of the occurrence had been made up to this writing and no indication of speed could be ascertained.

UNUSUAL ATTRACTION COMING THIS WEEK-END TO A. & G. THEATER

The coming of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Johnson's greatest achievement, "Congorilla," to the A. & G. Theater on Sunday and Monday will be doubly important. In the first place it will mark the presentation of the one and only talking motion picture entirely made in the African jungle. Secondly, "Congorilla," which took two years to make, will disclose secrets the jungle has heretofore hidden from civilization.

This picture provides different entertainment. The humans and the beasts of the jungle are presented exactly as they are, with natural sound. In fact, the spectator hears the pygmies talk, thrills to the hysterical shrieks of fighting gorillas, is held spellbound by the roar of lions and other wild beasts, and the splashing of rivers and lakes alive with charging monsters and the weird songs and ceremonies of savages.

DIED

Entered into rest on Thursday morning, September 8, at noon, Mrs. Mary Everard, widow of the late C. G. Everard aged 71 years and a native of New Orleans. She is survived by an only sister, Mrs. Jennie Selier. Mrs. Everard was a resident of Bay St. Louis for the past forty years and well known.

The funeral will take place this Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with interment at Cedar Rest cemetery.

John W. Krammer, resident of Clermont Harbor, died at his place of residence last Sunday, September 4, at 2:30 o'clock P. M. He is survived by his wife.

The remains were taken to New Orleans Monday morning for interment at Lafayette cemetery No. 1. He was well known and his death widely regretted.

The Game of Life

This little game, men label life,
 Is scarcely worth the winning.
 So full it is of futile strife
 In every checkered inning.

The players on the pennant team,
 Though heroes for an hour,
 Are soon awakened from their dream
 Of fortune, fame and power.

Their pictures grace the sporting page,
 Their records stand resplendent,
 Eclipsing those of saint and sage,
 Transfigured and transcendent.

For starry decades, men may boast,
 "I saw that team in action,
 Each player was himself a host,
 The soul of satisfaction."

Some little lad perchance may say,
 "The Captain was my daddy,"
 "The Quarter was my Uncle Ray,"
 Exclaim some clever caddy.

Some multi-millionaire may claim
 He was the matchless center.
 The Full-Back of this faultless frame
 May be some big inventor.

No matter what the scores they made,
 No matter what their winning,
 Their golden glory soon shall fade,
 Despite its bright beginning.

On every field, in every game,
 For loser or for winner,
 The final verdict is the same,
 For saint, alas, or sinner.

And so this little game of life
 Is scarcely worth the winning.
 So much there is of futile strife
 In every checkered inning.

R. N. BLAIZE OF BAY ST. LOUIS HEADS SEAFOOD COMMISSIONReport of Financial Condition Indicates Commission Successful—To Visit Reefs.

R. N. Blaize, of Bay St. Louis, was re-elected president of the Mississippi Seafood Commission at its annual election held Monday at Gulfport.

A full attendance of the members was present. Mr. Blaize has made an excellent officer for the commission during the past term and he will be assisted by W. J. Grant, Sr., secretary, and Louis Staehling, chief oyster inspector both re-elected, who have proven capable officers. The commission appointed Charles Wentzell of Biloxi and Lee Beckham of Pascagoula deputy inspectors. They deferred action as to the appointment of other deputies.

A report submitted by Auditor Scutt showed the financial condition of the commission to be excellent at the close of the fiscal year Sept. 1. Other appointments made by the commission include Capt. Levi Sprinkle of Pass Christian in charge of the Alethia Vardaman and Napoleon Netto of DeLisle as engineer of the commission boat. They decided to appoint a legal representative at a later date. The commission will make an inspection of the western oyster reefs, including St. Joe reef near Bay St. Louis, Thursday for the purpose of deciding as to whether to open the reef immediately to raw catchers.

Cool and Quiet

The lake breeze and the river breeze meet at the Bienville, keeping it delightfully cool all summer. Your room, with dainty crisp curtains, large windows and comfortable lounging chairs, will prove a restful retreat.

The Bienville is a quiet place to be "at home" while in New Orleans. Just outside of the business district, yet it is within a few minutes of the theatre, shopping and financial section.

Garage in hotel for guests.
